Carenado's Custom Skyhawk is based on the C172 Skyhawk. It includes both the original Carenado model and the improved new model. This is a recreation of a USAF 2nd Squadron Skyhawk which was flown by Mike Musiewicz and kept at Hangar No. 4 at Kirtland Air Force Base, New Mexico. Built with aluminum, fiberglass and resin, the aircraft features a re-built power system, a new green and dark grey textured exterior, completely re-built fan and propellers, plus all new glass. It includes all the features of the original aircraft and more, including; engine cowls, a sliding cockpit door and window, engine cowl grab handles, brand new bonnet cowl, convertible two-wheel landing gear, re-styled cockpit gauges, a light wind-cut assembly, a removable panel with forward fuselage trim, new canopy, collectible 1/32 ATHA PE-411379 title and 1/32 Carenado Aircraft parts kit, a 24-hour radio, a new flight suit from the USAF and more. The Carenado aircraft is available for both shipment and assembly. Added first levels.*

The Saint: Abyss of Despair installation and activation

- As in the previous games it is enough to locate the NK Body and you can safely cancel it. All agents can be opened in this mode.
- You can change the skin color if your preference.
- In this mode your Agent's firepower and energy decreases. Warning: If you use an old saved file with attenuated firepower a bad difficulty will be activated when you open it. Regeneration and stock, weapons, and Personal shield are enough to bypass this problem.
- By default the Game keeps the skill points to level 10, if you have a better grade in them they will be regenerated.
- The character doesn't have a cash. All abilities have to be used to get out of situations. If the cash is not enough, you can buy clothes and furniture.
- Smokes are a limited resource, but they can be useful in certain situations if you have a special skill. And because they are limited, they don't have to be kept forever in the inventory.
- Drink up. There isn't a chance of a health hint in the game.
- When you move a mouse over the heroine, you can see the cutie in full screen.
