I have a spreadsheet with a couple of random values in a cell. The value of the cell changes each time it's copied and pasted. How do I make my macro run when the value of the cell is copied and pasted, and an action is performed, depending on the value of the cell. I'm very very new to VBA. A: You could use ThisWorkbook.Events.Add in Excel 2013+ VBA with this code... Sub Workbook_NewSheet() Application.EnableEvents = False Range("A1").Value = Format(Now, "dddd, d mmm yyyy") Application.EnableEvents = True End Sub Notes: (1) do not use.Select and.Activate. They are too slow. (2) This is for Excel in general. If you want to apply to a sheet or a range, please post the full code in your question. (3) See NOTE 1 in this post for explanation. If you want to trigger something when the value is copied and pasted in a range, you could use Excel's OnData event. This event is triggered when the data in a cell is pasted. Unfortunately, there are no events when the value of a cell is copied. So, your best option is probably to trigger the code in the Workbook_NewSheet event and you could take that code and simply use Range("A1").Value = Format(Now, "dddd, d mmm yyyy") Update (thanks to Reid) The following code will run when the value is copied, it depends on your value: Private Sub Worksheet_BeforeDoubleClick(ByVal Target As Range, Cancel As Boolean) Dim rng as Range Dim rv As String Set rng = Range("A1") rv = rng.

The move is being seen as a first step towards revamping the model by which forest land is currently distributed.
